Gathering, Collaboration and Select the Problem Statement

The image shows a Mural template titled "Brainstorm & idea prioritization". The template is divided into three main sections. The first section, "Before you collaborate", includes a lightbulb icon and text: "A little bit of preparation goes a long way with this session. Here's what you need to do to get going." It lists three steps: "Team gathering" (Define who should participate in the session and send an invite. Share relevant information in pre-work ahead.), "Set the goal" (Think about the problem you'll be focusing on solving in the brainstorming session.), and "Learn how to use the facilitation tools" (Use the Facilitation Superpowers to run a happy and productive session.). The second section, "Define your problem statement", includes a text box with the prompt: "How might we [your problem statement]?". The third section, "Key rules of brainstorming", includes a list of rules: "Stay in topic.", "Encourage wild ideas.", "Defer judgment.", "Listen to others.", "Go for volume.", and "If possible, be visual.".

Step-2: Brainstorm, Idea Listing and Grouping

2

Brainstorm

Write down any ideas that come to mind that address your problem statement.

10 minutes

Tip
You can add a sticky note around the grid to indicate which ideas you want to keep.

3

Group Ideas

Take turns sharing your ideas while clustering similar or related notes as you go. In the last 10 minutes, give each cluster a sentence-like label. If a cluster is bigger than six sticky notes, try and see if you can break it up into smaller sub-groups.

Tip
When you have a large cluster of sticky notes, try to group them into smaller clusters. You can use a sentence-like label to group them. If a cluster is bigger than six sticky notes, try and see if you can break it up into smaller sub-groups.

Step-3: Idea Prioritization

4

Prioritize

Your team should all be on the same page about what's important moving forward. Place your ideas on this grid to determine which ideas are important and which are feasible.
